

Texfusion & The London Print Design Fair

31 October / 1 November 2017

PRESS RELEASE

TEXFUSION AND THE LONDON PRINT DESIGN FAIR TOGETHER AT THE BUSINESS DESIGN CENTRE

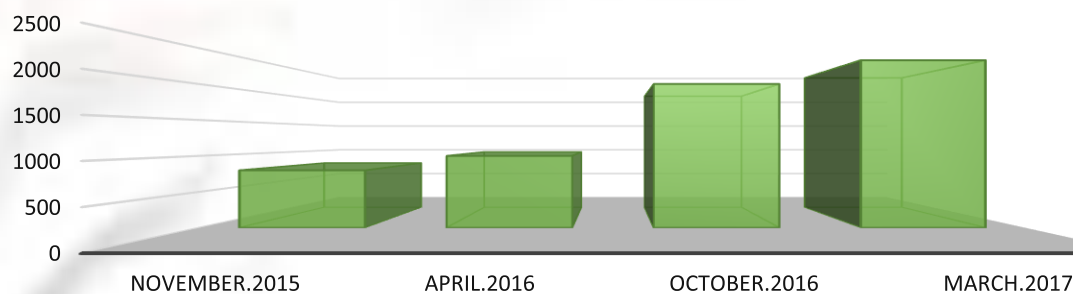

Around 150 international exhibitors and more than 2500 visitors expected for this October edition of The London Print Design Fair and Texfusion.

From the experience of the past 2 shows, it is clear that the combination of the two fairs boosts the event attendance due to the cross-over of the sectors involved. Texfusion is the largest international sourcing textile show in the UK, now also including technical fabrics, home textiles and garments.

The London Print Design Fair has increased the number of print studios with new exhibitors coming from abroad. TLPDF is for the majority attended by British and European studios, who consider the show the best platform to present their designs and meet the top industry decision-makers.

Texfusion & TLPDF - Visitors - Past Editions

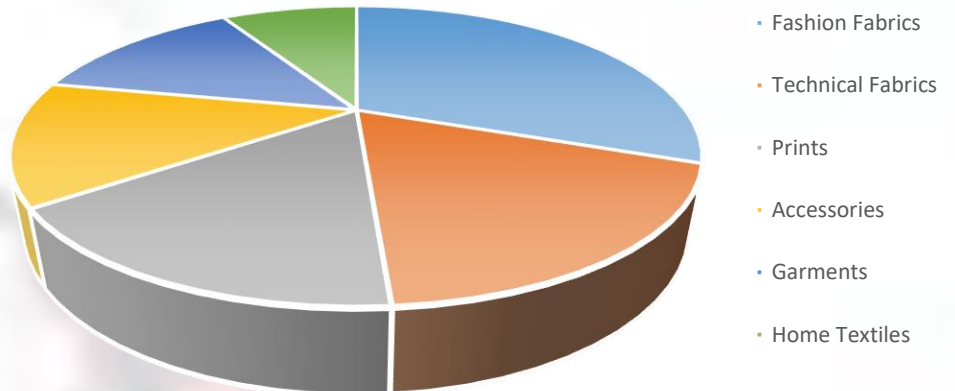

“A very positive first experience to be repeated in the future!” Ana Pereira – Urentel (Portugal) Exhibitor – Texfusion – Home Hall

“Fab show, lovely atmosphere. The new space is great. Clients came from many European countries, it was really exciting.....It’s great to have a show like this in London.” Sam Morray, Sam Morray Design – Exhibitor TLPDF

Buyers - Product Sourcing

The Fashion Fabrics & Accessories area confirms its leading position within the show with around 80 exhibitors expected. A substantial increase 10% increase from March 2017, with exhibitors from United Kingdom, Turkey, South Korea, China, United States, India, Taiwan, Romania, Germany, Hong Kong, Italy and Brazil.

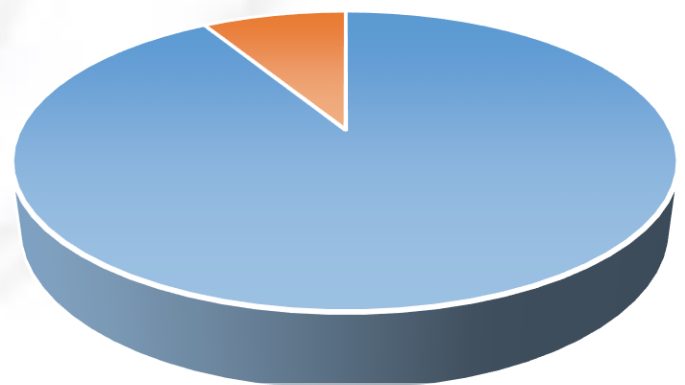

The Print Design Fair had as usual a strong presence of British Studios (about 80%) with an increasing number of exhibitors from abroad. Some of the studios have also exhibited at our new show in New York in August The Print+Design Fair – New York Edition, which saw 20 of the best European Studios presenting their latest collection in central Manhattan.
